winner cheryl frank memorial prize international association of critical realism a fresh look at islam in a multi faith world provides a comprehensively theorised and practical approach to thinking systematically and deeply about islam and muslims in a multi faith world it makes the case for a contemporary educational philosophy to help young muslims surmount the challenges of post modernity and to transcend the hiatuses and obstacles that they face in their interaction and relationships with non muslims and visa versa it argues that the philosophy of critical realism in its original dialectical and metareal moments so fittingly underlabours bhaskar 1975 for the contemporary interpretation clarification and conceptual deepening of islamic doctrine practice and education as to suggest a distinctive branch of critical realist philosophy specifically suited for this purpose this approach is called islamic critical realism the book proceeds to explain how this islamic critical realist approach can serve the interpretation of the consensual elements of islamic doctrine such as the six elements of islamic belief and the five pillars of islamic practice so that these essential features of the muslim way of life can help muslim young people to contribute positively to life in multi faith liberal democracies in a globalising world finally the book shows how this islamic critical realist approach can be brought to bear in humanities classrooms by history religious education and citizenship teachers to help muslim young people engage informatively and transformatively with themselves and others in multi faith contexts a bold new conceptualization of islam that reflects its contradictions and rich diversity what is islam how do we grasp a human and historical phenomenon characterized by such variety and contradiction what is islamic about islamic philosophy or islamic art should we speak of islam or of islams should we distinguish the islamic the religious from the islamicate the cultural or should we abandon islamic altogether as an analytical term in what is islam shahab ahmed presents a bold new conceptualization of islam that challenges dominant understandings grounded in the categories of religion and culture or those that privilege law and scripture he argues that these modes of thinking obstruct us from understanding islam distorting it diminishing it and rendering it incoherent what is islam formulates a new conceptual language for analyzing islam it presents a new paradigm of how muslims have historically understood divine revelation one that enables us to understand how and why muslims through history have embraced values such as exploration ambiguity aestheticization polyvalence and relativism as well as practices such as figural art music and even wine drinking as islamic it also puts forward a new understanding of the historical constitution of islamic law and its relationship to philosophical ethics and political theory a book that is certain to provoke debate and significantly alter our understanding of islam what is islam reveals how muslims have historically conceived of and lived with islam as norms and truths that are at once contradictory yet coherent this book explores some of the political and methodological directions that collectively lead to the repositioning of islam in social science research as both an epistemic ontological category and as a method chapters by experts in the field explore research in the islamic context vis à vis these two distinct yet somehow interrelated frames the question being raised here is how islam as socio religious notion is related to islam as a theoretical methodological framework taking cues from the experience of contributors this book also examines the question if current methodologies or frames of references are pluralized enough to accommodate the question of muslims or could the scholars themselves create alternative directions around the dominant spaces the book offers ethnographic studies of muslim communities mostly in minority settings and engages with a number of issues researchers encounter when dealing with the lived or everyday islam this book is essential reading for anyone engaged in the study of muslims in the contemporary world it will appeal to scholars of religious studies studies of islam in the west anthropology sociology cultural studies human geography and research methods
